INTRODUCTION

National development is a series of sustainable development efforts that cover all aspects of the life of the Indonesian nation. Development is essentially a process of continuous change from improvement towards the desired goal.

The goal of national development in Indonesia is to create a just and prosperous society that is equitable, material and spiritual based on Pancasila. This goal is in line with the objectives of the Indonesian nation which contains the Preamble to the 1945 Constitution paragraph 4, namely protecting the entire Indonesian nation and all Indonesian bloodshed, advancing the general welfare, educating the nation's life, participating in carrying out world order based on independence, lasting peace and social justice.

The success of national development is strongly influenced by the role of government organizations that carry out government tasks. However, most agencies that are given the mandate to carry out government tasks are far from the expected national development goals so that government officials / employees who work in a government agency need to improve good relations between the apparatus / employees themselves. (Akib et al., 2019; Akib & Saleh, 2018; Arhas et al., 2022; Prasodjo, 2019)

The relationship between government officials/employees is indeed very necessary in supporting the sustainability of each other's lives. But what happened at a time when the government received a lot of public attention, especially in terms of services. Meanwhile, the Indonesian people themselves are critical in wanting maximum service from the government. In global life accompanied by changing times and increasingly modern human life, technology and others this brings complex changes and impacts. (Ahsan et al., 2020; Niswaty et al., 2020)

The fact that happened to the saai community was still a lot of riots, protests, excessive demonstrations caused by people's distrust of the government that was not in accordance with the wishes of the people. In addition, the phenomenon that occurs among the community and that is complained about is both in the management that is tangible to the services of the people involved in the institution.

The most important task of any government agency is to provide services, even basically the formation of government agencies is intended as the main tool in the provision of services. So that services by government officials to the community must be really considered because it is a manifestation of the role of the bureaucracy as an administrator in carrying out tasks and directing community services with full devotion, as well as improving governance. (Akib et al., 2016; Isaac et al., 2020; TB Thunder, 2021)

Decree of the Minister of State Apparatus Empowerment (KEPMENPAN) Number 63 of 2004 quotes stating that the essence of public services is the provision of excellent services to the community which is a manifestation of the obligations of government officials as community servants. It seems clear what is the right of the community and the obligations of the apparatus itself.

The services provided by the government to the community continue to undergo renewal, both in terms of paradigm and service format in line with the policies issued from these agencies as well as in the increasing demands of the community and changes in the government that are satisfactory even the community is still positioned as a helpless party and is realized in the framework of services. Even though service activities are also concerned with the fulfillment of a right, it becomes a right of participation that is also attached to everyone. So in obtaining reasonable service to obtain that right is a right also to be fought for. And the point is that those government officials are servants of the community and not fully servants of the state because government agencies should not forget that they provide services to the public.

One type of government service is to serve the manufacture of job seeker cards. It is common understanding in society that if we want to apply to an agency, we must first complete the predetermined requirements. One of them is by bringing a job seeker card issued by the labor service.

On this job seeker card, there are several provisions for job seekers, and as employees who have a function as a job introduction, they have the obligation to explain the meaning of the points stated in the provisions. So that job seekers do not feel the lack of information. This is also what must be done well in the introduction to work so that those who receive service feel satisfaction.

The Makassar City Manpower Office as a community service institution is expected to make efforts to improve the quality of its services to the community in accordance with the principles of public services such as openness, simplicity, certainty, justice, security or comfort, as well as responsiveness of service officers, so that the provision of services to the community is expected to be effective and quality and also have an impact on increasing regional income obtained from service sector.

However, based on previous research, conditions in the field there are still problems that may be caused by the behavior of individual employees who violate the applicable rules that have been established from existing regulations or policies of the agency, both based on local regulations and binding laws. This can also happen because the rules that may have violated the rules of the work mechanism are not based on existing local standards so that deviations are rampant among them
